

LIFE TO MISSIONARY CAUSE

TEN YEARS IN INDIA UNDERMINED HEALTH.

Mrs. Burger, President of Home and Foreign Missionary Society of College Church Passes Away.

Magdalene Lanius Keith Burger gave her life to the missionary cause, passing away at the home of her mother, Mrs. Helen A. Keith, in Gettysburg Sunday morning in her 40th year. She was the daughter of the late Rev. William H. Keith, a former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Gettysburg, and Mrs. Helen Keith. She was married to Rev. Sylvester C. Burger, a graduate of Gettysburg College and the Lutheran Theological Seminary here and went with him to the Lutheran Mission at Guntur. Mrs. Burger's first stay in India covered five years. She then returned to Gettysburg. After staying here several years she made another trip to India and remained there five more years. The climate of that country proved unsuited to Mrs. Burger, developing heart trouble from which she has been suffering periodically since her return. Her death was a great shock to her many friends and entirely unexpected at this time. She had recently been elected President of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the College Lutheran Church and had engaged in active work of the organization, speaking at meetings and while her friends realized that her health had been undermined by her work in India, the seriousness of her health was not appreciated. The funeral was held in the College Church on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. A. E. Wagner, D.D., conducting the services and interment being made at New Oxford. She leaves her husband, who is in India at the present time and one son, Keith Burger, of Gettysburg; her mother, Mrs. Helen A. Keith, and three sisters, Mrs. E. S. Stackhouse, of Bloomburg; Mrs. C. R. Miller, of Lincoln, Neb.; Mrs. Lena Keith Hafer, of Gettysburg, and one brother, John D. Keith, of Gettysburg.

Rev. Charles Samuel Trump, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Martinsburg, W. Va., for 31 years a member of the Board of Directors of Irving College, Mechanicsburg, and vice president of the Lutheran Home for Aged at Washington, died on Monday, Oct. 6, in his 64th year. He was born at Manchester, Carroll County, Md., and entered Gettysburg College, graduating here in class of 1877, and three years later from the Seminary here. He was ordained in 1880 and his first pastorate was at Harper's Ferry, W. Va. He went in 1888 to Martinsburg. He married Miss Eva Schick, daughter of J. L. Schick of this place, who survives with three sons and two daughters. Harold Trump, of Montclair, N. J.; Charles Trump, recently discharged from the Army; Frank Trump, at the University of West Virginia at Morgantown; Miss Bess Trump, of Martinsburg; and Mrs. B. B. Boss, of Baltimore. Two sisters survive, Miss Trump, of Manchester, and Mrs. Herr of Westminster, Md.

Mrs. John D. McCahey, formerly of Gettysburg, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. S. Hafer, of Phillipsburg, N. J., on Thursday of last week. Death came as the result of a stroke of paralysis which Mrs. McCahey, who was 67 years old, suffered last Sunday. Prior to going to the home of her daughter about a year ago Mrs. McCahey lived in this place where her husband died in June 1918. Twenty years ago Mr. and Mrs. McCahey moved to Gettysburg from their farm near Arendtsville. Mrs. McCahey was a life-long member of the Lutheran Church and leaves the following sons and daughters: W. J. McCahey, of Thurmont, Md.; Mrs. H. W. Eyster, of Harrisburg; Rev. J. C. McCahey, of Friedensburg; Mrs. D. S. Hafer, of Phillipsburg, N. J.; A. C. McCahey, of Chicago; George E. McCahey, of South America; Mrs. W. C. Everhart, of Gettysburg; and Rev. G. E. McCahey, of Sipesville. She also leaves two brothers, George Oyler, of near Gettysburg, and Dr. W. H. Oyler, of New York City. The body was brought to the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Everhart on York street, Saturday evening. Funeral was on Sunday afternoon, services by Rev. J. B. Funeral was on Thursday, services by Rev. J. H. Hartman and Rev. A. M. Hollinger, interment at St. Bartholomew's Church.

Harry L. Bream met his death at Comyn, Texas, on Wednesday afternoon. He was fatally crushed while at his work and died shortly afterward in the Waco Hospital. The news was sent to his brother, F. Mark Bream, by latter's son, Clyde Bream, who reached the hospital with Mrs. Benjamin Fisher, a sister of deceased, before he died. Harry L. Bream was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bream, of Cashtown, and was born at the Bream home in Cashtown 29 years ago. He spent the earlier part of his life in Adams county and has lived in Texas 12 years. He had been employed by the Standard Oil Co. in various parts of Louisiana and Texas. About a year ago he was employed by the Humble Pipe Line and was engaged in erecting huge 2000 gallon barrel tanks for the company at Comyn. The details of the accident were not given. He had declared it to be his intention to return to Adams county when he had finished the contract on which he was working. His last trip home was two years ago. He leaves four brothers, F. Mark Bream, of Gettysburg; Clarence, Robert and John Bream, of Cashtown; and four sisters, Mrs. Guy Boyd, of York; Mrs. Preston Musselman, of Fairfield; Mrs. Benjamin Fisher, of Shreveport, Louisiana; and Mrs. John J. Road Boss Shot Down.

The building of the second section of the State Highway from the Adams county line through York county to Dillsburg and Cumberland county line was marked by a shooting affray on Thursday at Clear Springs. The boss at that point was a Mr. Sloan and on Thursday morning he had an altercation with a colored laborer by name of Curry. The latter finally pulled a revolver and began to shoot at Sloan. One shot entered the thigh of the man and the second shot struck a leg. It was not considered that either shot would prove fatal. Mr. Sloan was rushed to the Harrisburg Hospital for operation and treatment of the wounds. The colored man after the shooting started to get away. A posse was quickly gathered and the country around Clear Springs was searched for the man.

Mysterious Fire.

Fire of mysterious origin destroyed the barn on the farm of Miss Elsie Deatrick near Bender's Church early Tuesday evening. Luther Fleming, the tenant on the farm, was out in the field loading some corn about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening when he noticed a light flash in the straw mow and in a few moments the entire upper part of the barn was ablaze. The neighbors assisted in removing the stock to a place of safety. In the burned structure were all this season's crops of hay, grain, some harness and machinery.

New Fire Zone Created.

The Town Council held their regular meeting on Tuesday night and by a vote of seven to two repealed the old ordinance prohibiting the erection of frame buildings and by a new ordinance fixed a fire zone taking in the central part of the town where no frame buildings can be erected. This fire zone within which no one can construct frame buildings larger than 15 by 15 foot dimensions includes the following streets and alleys: Chambersburg street within three squares from Centre Square; Carlisle street, York street, Baltimore street, with four squares from Centre Square; Hanover street within one square from its intersection with York; Washington street within two squares south and five squares north of Chambersburg street; Franklin street within two squares south and one square north of Chambersburg street; Railroad Water, Lincoln avenue and Broadway within two squares both east and west of Carlisle street; Stratton street within two squares of York street; Middle street within two squares east and west of Baltimore street are also included in the fire zone.

It was learned at the meeting that the Highway Department had received some communication about the financial condition of Gettysburg and demand was made for full information. This was furnished by Borough Attorney Williams and that it was satisfactory is evidenced by fact that the contractors have started work on the street. The material coming off of Chambersburg and York streets will go for repairs on other streets.

Red Cross Regional Conference.

A regional conference of the American Red Cross was held in Harrisburg on Tuesday and was attended by a number of Red Cross workers from Adams county. H. T. Stover, of Gettysburg, Mrs. Harry Raffensperger, of Arendtsville, Mrs. J. W. Barnitz, Miss Kathryn Winand, Miss Mary Snyder and Miss Bess Stock, of New Oxford.

The conference was addressed by the Polish Countess Madame de Turczynowicz, an American by birth, who detailed the great need of Poland and Lithuania for the knitting and sewing of the Red Cross, a need as imperative now as at any time in the cause of humanity, for the needy children and women of devastated areas.

The peace program was outlined by Charles K. Scott, Division Manager of Pennsylvania-Delaware Division, and he urged the continuance of the work of the Red Cross especially toward establishing health centers.

County Inventor.

George W. Emmert, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Emmert, of York Springs, but twenty-eight years of age is president of the Clamert Manufacturing Co. of Pittsburgh, which manufactures among other automobile accessories the Clamert lenses now being used extensively in response to the motor law passed by the last session of the Legislature. The name "Clamert" was conceived by joining the name Clark and Emmert. The invention of the Clamert lens was the result of an automobile accident in 1915 when due to being blinded by approaching headlights young Emmert narrowly escaped serious injury. He determined to secure a "light control" for automobiles. He set as his goal, a form of lens which would give a maximum light minus the glare and the Clamert lens was the result of this effort.

Fire Fighters Save Barn.

On Sunday afternoon a passing tourist discovered a blaze in the straw stack at farm of John Shetter near Gulden's Station. An alarm was given and in a short time several hundred people gathered at the farm. The fire in straw stack threatened again and again to spread to the barn but the bucket brigade formed by the crowd confined the fire to the stack and saved the barn containing the season's crops.

Silk Mill Coming.

The work on the title to the land proposed to be bought is occupying attention these days. It is desired to run the title back to the patent deed and that takes time often to do. It is expected by middle of month the contractor will be able to break the ground and rush up the building.

HELP THE HOSPITAL DRIVE

ENDOWMENT MEANS INCREASED EFFICIENCY.

It Would Take Repeated Calls to Make Ends Meet, Which Endowment Provides.

"I see $100,000 is wanted for the Annie M. Warner Hospital. I know the hospital is a god-send and blessing but tell me more details about the need of the money," is the way an Adams county resident recently addressed a party interested in the drive.

"Do you suppose the Hospital can be run without money," was the reply. "There will be a superintendent and matron and there must be nurses and they will all have to be paid salaries. There will be fires to be kept going and fuel to be supplied. There will be patients coming and going all the time. They must be fed and cared for. There will be all kinds of supplies needed for the running of the hospital, care of the grounds and for the patients to be cared for. There will be constant need of medical and surgical and nursing supplies. All these things cost money every day, every week, every month. It may take with the most careful management, six, seven, eight thousand dollars a year, or even more. A family of thirty or more will likely be the hospital family, patients and attendants all the time."

"Will there be any income?" "Not much at the start, perhaps a third or fourth of the expense of running the hospital will come from the pay patients, but the greater part of the patients to be cared for will give no income. That is the history of all hospitals."

"Can any State aid be had?" "The amount of free service given by the hospital will govern the State aid ultimately given. No State aid is available until after the next session of the Legislature and there will be no session until Jan. 1, 1921. The appropriation bills will not be passed before the end of the session and it will be the summer of 1921 before any money for maintenance can be obtained from the State. This is a disadvantage and an advantage. A disadvantage that no State help can be had for maintenance for a year and a half, an advantage to make a record in that time of free service. If the appropriation reaches $2000 or $3000 when the time for State help comes, the hospital will be most fortunate."

"How are other hospitals successfully managed?" "Hospitals breaking even at the end of the year, or those having a balance on hand are those with an endowment. An endowment of $100,000 would make available an income of $5000 annually and this added to the receipts from pay patients would give some chance of expenses not being so far ahead of income and when after a year and a half State aid would be available it should be possible to have an income sufficient to cover expenses."

"How are hospitals without endowment run?" "By having annual deficits, annually and semi-annually and all the time there must be begging to make up this deficit, which will grow, unless constantly kept after. Time and labor which ought to be given to managing and caring for an institution must be given to getting enough money to keep the hospital going. A hospital without an endowment can become a burden and a worry to every one connected with it."

The listener was then asked: "How much are you going to let us put you down for?"

"I haven't said, but I am going to give and give all I can to one of the best causes ever presented to the people of this county."

"Good, and remember that the blessing of giving is going to fall not only on those who receive the benefits of the hospital but those who manage it, for it will be a stimulus and an inspiration to a management to be devoted to the welfare of the hospital instead of continually begging for money. If the people of the county would appreciate the greatest good to be accomplished, I believe they would give the $100,000 pushed down, running over, nearer to $200,000, for such a sum would send the hospital on a wonderful career of mercy and blessing."

Night School.

The School Directors of Gettysburg at their October meeting on Thursday evening authorized the opening of a night school at the High School. This was done so that the school district may fully comply with the law, that children at work over 14 years of age and under 16 years shall have an opportunity of getting the schooling the law contemplates every child shall have. Mr. J. Guy Wolf will have charge of the night school. Mr. Wolf has one of the most popular departments in the High School, the Commercial Department, and night scholars will have the opportunity of taking a portion of this course, which includes the short hand, typewriting and other practical business subjects. Every child unable to go during the day should avail himself or herself of this opportunity.

Clover Mites Infest the House.

Nearly every fall there are many inquiries sent to the Bureau of Plant Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, from anxious housewives because their houses are over run with many small red mites. These are the clover mites which usually inhabit the clovers and grasses, but also give some trouble to fruit growers, especially in dry summers, by infesting plum, apple, pear, peach, cherry, raspberry and other fruit trees and also many forest trees.

In Pennsylvania these insects pass the winter in the egg stage on the young wood of fruit trees. The eggs are small and red color and sometimes they are so thick, especially on plum trees, as to give the twigs a decided red color.

It frequently happens that these little mites invade houses in the fall seeking a place to hibernate. This is a great annoyance but they do no harm.

These mites can be controlled easily by spraying or dusting with sulphur.

If spraying is to be done use concentrated lime sulphur as strong as the plant will stand. In the case of apple, one to 40, with plum, one to 60.

Black leaf 40 diluted 1 to 1000 and to each fifty gallons add two pounds of soap will control it.

If dusting is to be used, dilute dusting sulphur one half with hydrated lime and thoroughly cover the plants.

Whether spraying or dusting is done be sure to cover the underside of the leaves as well as the upper side.

Students Eliminate Hazing.

The following petition of Students of Gettysburg College ends hazing here it is believed:

"To the Faculty of Pennsylvania College:

"We, the undersigned students of Pennsylvania College, feel that the time has come when, for the betterment of our college, a closer relationship should be formed between the student body and the Faculty. To this end we pledge our support and influence to eliminate hazing in any form whatever, a practice which we realize has resulted only in harm to the institution.

"We further wish to go on record as being ready to support any movement which will tend to the betterment of our college in any way and to discourage any practice which may retard her progress.

"We also petition that, if in the judgment of the Faculty men now under suspension for hazing have been sufficiently punished, they be permitted to again enroll as students in the college.

Another Gettysburg Gold Star.

One more name has been added to Gettysburg's Gold Star Honor Roll. And the man who made the supreme sacrifice for his country was Richard Freas, an ex-member of the class of '15, of Gettysburg College.

On July 24, last, Freas who was serving in the Navy, was sent out by his captain with a bag of mail for the United States to be forwarded on the S. S. Mt. Vernon. Four sailors accompanied him on the gig Wilhelmina. According to directions they approached the Mt. Vernon by going around in front of her. Just then a U. S. Destroyer dashing along at the rate of fifteen knots per hour suddenly appeared and cut the gig in two. Freas and the four sailors were thrown into the sea. A lifeboat was thrown to them from the Mt. Vernon. The four sailors were rescued, but Freas sank before he could reach the raft.

He was seen to take off his coat and swim. The mail bag was picked up. Freas' body was eventually recovered and he is now buried in the Naval Cemetery at Karpentras. Freas is the seventeenth Gettysburg Gold Star man on the Honor Roll of Gettysburg men who died for their country.

The New Commandant?

The most probable new commanding officer of the R. O. T. C. unit of the Gettysburg College boys will be Major Tuttle now located at Virginia State College. He has been highly recommended for the position which means that he will, beyond a doubt, receive the appointment.

This week the Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores will study the mechanism of the machine gun. The dismounting and studying of the automatic rifle will be continued for the Freshman class which has not yet had this golden opportunity.

The equipment is here and will be issued the early part of this week. First Sergeant Duke is anxious to have the boys all dolled-up in the olive drab for our next formation.

In addition to this welcome news, we wish to state that the pay roll was mailed last Wednesday and will return on Wednesday

Wheat and Corn Growers Talk to President

These five men from as many different Western states and representing the real farmers' voice of the land have just been in conference with President Wilson regarding means of reducing the cost of living.

PUT UP FIGHT FOR BROOD

Old White Hen Proved herself Worthy of the Best Traditions of the Barnyard.

We usually think of roosters as proverbial fighters and of hens as decidedly lacking in spirit. On occasion, however, the hens can be as brave as the bravest. I once witnessed, writes a subscriber, an exhibition of courage on the part of a hen that deserves to be recorded.

She was a white topknot of eccentric disposition, which is one way of saying that she preferred to select her own nests. She chose the spare-room bed for that purpose, and had accumulated four eggs before she was discovered and indignantly shooed out of the window. Highly indignant, she disappeared under the barn, whence she emerged several weeks later with eleven chicks.

Beyond the door of the barn into the kitchen one day when the door had inadvertently been left open, Madam White displayed no more eccentricity than any other hen. But one day there arose a mighty uproar in the back yard. Such a cackling, squawking and peeping surely portended dire calamity. We rushed to the door just in time to see a hawk getting the surprise of his life. He had evidently swooped down for one of the chickens, and Madam White, with beak and claws and wings, was giving him a drubbing that threatened permanently to disable him.

Suddenly a dark shape swept down to the ground, there was a piercing peep, and Madam White turned to see the hawk's mate in the act of seizing one of her brood. Quick as thought, she flew to the rescue. Up into the air went the hawk, and with it went Madam White. The hawk tried its best to shake her off, but the hen hung on, fighting desperately, until the hawk was forced to drop the chicken and beat a retreat.

Madam White came to earth with a thud and a flop, gaitered her flock about her, and retired to the shelter of the current bushes, where she talked about the occurrence in gutturals for some time. Neither of the captured chickens sustained any serious injury, and the old grenadier brought the entire brood to maturity.—Youth's Companion.

FOUNTAIN PEN FRENCH IDEA

Jean Benoit Mallat Is Said to Have Been the Inventor of Handy Writing Utensil.

A fountain pen made in 1864 is still in use in Paris. It was patented that same year by Jean Benoit Mallat, an engineer, and the firm that still carries on the business founded by him reports that this was the first fountain pen.

A GETTYSBURG INTERVIEW.

Mrs. Gilbert Tells Her Experience.

The following brief account of an interview with a Gettysburg woman six years ago, and its sequel will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Mrs. Mary A. Gilbert, 128 W. Middle St., says: "My health was in a bad condition for some time, caused by disordered kidneys. I wasn't able to sleep much and what rest I did get didn't seem to refresh me. My back and head ached and frequently I'd get dizzy spells and chills. When I caught cold, these symptoms became worse. One of the family advised me to get Doan's Kidney Pills and I bought a supply at the People's Drug Store. Doan's certainly do just as advertised, for they gave me prompt relief in every way and I gladly endorse them."

OVER SIX YEARS LATER.

Mrs. Gilbert added: "My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills hasn't changed, and I can recommend them as highly as ever. Doan's never fail to give the desired results, so I gladly back up my former statements."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Gilbert had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Mallat was the inventor of the gold pen with the ruby point, perhaps the easiest writing and most durable nib ever put on the market. But it is necessarily expensive. In 1943 Mallat substituted iridium as a point for his pen. At the same time he provided a reservoir for the ink. This was the germ from which grew the idea of storing ink in the handle.

Mallat's fountain pen of 1864 was only slightly from our modern pens. It was self-filling, but the flow of ink was regulated by a little turn-screw on the side. This, however, was soon given up, as it became clogged.

It would be interesting to know what was the date of the earliest patent on a fountain pen in America and England.

Friction a Necessity.

Progress needs brakes as well as motors. Progress is not a matter of levers, but of hills and valleys. Brakeless progress is the uncontrolled machine on the steep downgrade. You are the master who holds the control. Make your life keen, thoughtful and considerate. You will find much in fellowship that will suggest friction, but you will also be able to turn that friction to account if you see things in the right perspective. Some folks will growl no matter what happens. Let them growl. They must have a safety valve. You do your part and you will learn where to apply the friction that makes life go.—Exchange.

Possibility That Waters of the Rhone Will Give Up Sarcophagi Long in Their Keeping.

An ancient story of the greed of kings has been resurrected by an erudite member of the Institute de France, Mr. Adrien Blanchet. The fact is there is some prospective work on hand for the utilization of the Rhone water power. Thus do ancient history and modern enterprise come to hobnob in the revue des etudes anciennes. The story tells how the king of France, Charles IX, coming one day to Arles, saw the Roman sarcophagi and wished them his. He did not cover long for the next act in this kingly episode was the shipping of the most perfect of Rome's monuments en route for the capital city. This may have furnished a later king of France, namely, Louis XIV, with the precedent for the removal of the statue of Mescalina from Bordeaux; not that that monarch ever needed either precedent or encouragement for his actions. The sarcophagi started on their journey. It was in the year 1597. They had unfortunately not gone beyond the famous Pont-Saint-Esprit, before the boats sank beneath so unusual and weighty a load. Now, the congress for the development of water power, which sat in February this year, discussed among other schemes the transformation of the Pont-Saint-Esprit. The question is—and it will be admitted to be an absorbing one—during the excavations in the bed of the Rhone will those sarcophagi, lost nearly four centuries ago, be recovered?

The House of Melancholy Lords.

Some of the peers rebuked by Lord Salisbury for never appearing at Westminster may be of the opinion of Disraeli, who after three months' experience of the house of lords declared that he felt like one "dead and in the Elysian fields." The present Viscount Peel used far stronger language in a speech to his former constituents at Taunton, complaining of having been forced to go to the house of lords.

"Even a guillotined house of commons," he said, "is better than the muzzled melancholy of the house of lords. . . . It is a severe trial to one who has red blood in his veins to walk perforce across the lobby into the half-light and backwaters of the lords. . . . Any social deference paid to a peer resembles that meted out to a woman because of her weakness or the kindness extended to a man with a wooden leg by those who have the happiness not to be maimed."

Inventor of Corliss Engine.

George Henry Corliss, inventor of the Corliss engine, was born in Easton, N. Y., 102 years ago. His first device was a machine for sewing boots and shoes. After several other minor inventions had been completed by him, he settled in Providence, R. I., in 1844 and became head of a firm engaged in the manufacture of steam engines. Here his talent began to show full scope, and in 1848 he completed the original form of what has since become famous the world over as the Corliss engine. By the invention Corliss revolutionized the use of stationary engines throughout the world and conferred a great and lasting boon upon industry. Corliss, who became immensely wealthy, died in Providence in 1888.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

Repatriating Prisoners.

When hostilities ceased there were in the hands of their Teuton captors millions of prisoners of war of all Allied countries, the terrible plight of whom is well known to all the world. Red Cross workers, carrying relief supplies of clothing, medicines and supplementary foodstuffs, penetrated the Central Powers as soon after the armistice as the military authorities would permit, and the work of getting the prisoners started back to their own countries was soon begun. In this photograph a group of these men are seen packed up and restored to something like normal health, awaiting the train that will carry them out of bondage.

Call for 30,000 Census Enumerators.

The Director of the Census, Hon. Sam. L. Rogers, announces that 30,000 enumerators will be needed to take the next census. The work begins on January 2 and will last about two weeks in cities, and a month or more in rural districts. Rates of pay will vary, depending upon the locality and character of the district to be canvassed. The average pay per enumerator at the census of 1910 was about $70. At this coming census it will probably be not less than $100.

Active, intelligent, and reliable men and women, not less than 18 years of age, are needed for this task, said Director Rogers, "and, in a sense, this is a call for volunteers. The importance of a complete and reliable census, especially in these critical times when more than ever before perhaps we need complete data regarding population, conditions, tendencies, and resources, can hardly be over-emphasized. The reorganization of the social and economic structure and the readjustment of international relations necessitated by the war must be based on accurate knowledge if we are to act wisely and deal justly with all classes and all interests. It is hoped, therefore, that public-spirited energetic people throughout the country will volunteer to act as census enumerators even though they may not care for the positions so far as the pay is concerned. I should be sorry to think and I do not believe, that all our patriotism was used up by the war and none left over for public service in times of peace."

Jacob E. Weaver, Supervisor of the Census for the 13th District of Pennsylvania, which includes the counties of Adams and York, states that he will need about 30 enumerators for this district. Applications or requests for application forms should be sent to him on or before October 15. His address is York Pa. As a test of their fitness for the work applicants will be required to fill out a sample schedule and will be duly notified of the time and place for this test. So far as practicable the place will be one which is easily accessible.

THE KNOX-LODGE SLUSH

IN THE UNITED STATES SENATE KNOCKED ON THE HEAD

By Senator McKellar, Who Calls on Country to be Fair and Give Credit Where it Belongs.

In these days of small men in the United States Senate it is refreshing to know that they have been told just how small they are to their face as U. S. Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, did last week. It will do every American good to preserve the following for future political reference. Among other things Senator McKellar said:

Ever since the armistice was signed on November 11, 1918, many Senators in this Chamber have seen fit on innumerable occasions to criticize and abuse the President of the United States for his conduct of the war and his terms of peace. Some times criticisms have been made for which there was some foundation, but more often criticism and abuse have been hurled at him and his policies without rhyme or reason, and without regard to facts. The remarks to which we have just listened are an illustration in point. Before the armistice, when we were fighting, as these very gentlemen admitted, for a victorious war and an enduring peace, everything the President did or said was exactly right—the fourteen points, the League of Nations, a dictated peace, and all the rest. But when the armistice was signed guaranteeing a complete surrender by Germany and her allies, and a victorious war won by the United States and her allies, his political enemies immediately changed front, and an election being seen in the distance, in all their plans politics superseded patriotism. They knew of course, that the chief honor of winning the war would naturally fall to President Wilson, and immediately upon the realization of that fact every one of those who during the war had claimed to be his friends but who were not, who were not, began their tirade of abuse and vilification and their machinations to prevent his getting credit for winning the war or for securing peace. Immediately, in their eyes, nothing that he had ever done or ever would do was or could be right. He was not only wrong when they said he was wrong, but he was wrong even when they, during the war, for their own political reasons, had said he was right.

During the war, when Wilson demanded a dictated peace, they applauded the utterance as the personification of American patriotism. When Wilson secured a dictated peace, immediately they turned and said it was too harsh on Germany. During the war they all claimed they wanted an enduring peace and a league to guarantee it. Wilson secured this, and immediately it was all wrong. During the war they wanted an ending of it that would primarily be satisfactory to the two great English-speaking countries. After the armistice and after Wilson had obtained what they asked in this respect they found that this was just what they did not want—England ought not to have anything to do with the treaty or league.

During the war they always demanded that France should have every protection. At the peace table Wilson gave France every protection. Immediately they changed their minds and wanted no entangling alliances with France. During the war they demanded that the five great allies should always act in concert. Wilson secured this demand, and immediately they changed their minds and wanted to substitute China for Japan, though China had had practically nothing to do with winning the war, and doubtless the most of her people hardly knew it was won. During the war and even when the peace conference was assembled they constantly urged that the United States should in all things act in concert with her allies. Wilson did this, and now they have repudiated and deserted our allies. During the war, either publicly or privately, they criticized the Irish in Ireland for not going into the war as they believed they should. After the war was over, and an election in sight, they have had nothing but praise for the Irish and condemnation for the English. The Irish have more votes in this country than the English. Those of us who genuinely sympathize with and favor the Irish must not be misled by this change of front. Many of these gentlemen are not now and never have been the real friends of Ireland. They shout in one breath that America must not meddle in European affairs, and in the next breath that Fiume must go to Italy. They shout in one breath that America must isolate herself, and in the next that it will be a crime if America does not in this treaty restore Shantung to China.

During the war, when Wilson gave out his fourteen points they praised them all. When Wilson secured their enactment into a treaty they immediately said they were all wrong, and then blamed him for not getting all of them into the treaty. The conclusion is inevitable from all these changes in position that if they were sincere in their views toward the President's policies during the war they are not sincere now. If they are sincere now, they were not sincere in their pledges of patriotism then. They can take either horn of this dilemma.

That President Wilson has made many mistakes can not be successfully controverted. No man who does not make them ever gets very far. That he has accomplished some of the greatest things that have ever been accomplished by any President is just as undeniable. Under these circumstances ought we not all to be fair to him?

Talk about adventures!

Men in the Navy come home with the kind of experiences that most chaps read of only in the books.

Here's your chance!

Uncle Sam has, as you know, a big Navy and gives red-blooded young fellows like you an opportunity to step aboard and "shove off".

What will you get out of it?

Just this:

A chance to rub elbows with foreign folks in strange parts of the world.

The chance for good honest work on shipboard—the kind of work that teaches you something real: the kind of work that puts beef on your shoulders and hair on your chest.

You will get 30 care-free vacation days a year, not counting shore leave in home or foreign ports.

You will have the kind of comradeship in travel that sailors know.

You will have regular pay, over and above your meals, lodging and your first uniform outfit—good stuff all of it.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

To any Father and Mother:—

In the Navy your boy's food, health, work and play, and moral welfare are looked after by responsible experts.

Shove off! - Join the U. S. Navy

You have no just cause of complaint, taken as a whole. Do not you think it unwise to interfere with these conditions? By reason of delay, conditions are getting unsettled. Do not you think you had better advise your representatives to quit quibbling over details and get our affairs settled? Our people want peace and rest and normal conditions in this country.

Full-blooded Americans, think it over! One hundred per cent Americans, let us give our President and his policies a square deal! His policies have made us great at home and the first power abroad. His policies have honored us in every land. They have made the name America the synonym of all that is fair and just wherever civilization exists throughout the world. Free peoples and would-be free peoples of every clime look to America for guidance in every upward movement.

Americans love fair play. We are not being fair to our greatest citizen and our most successful leader. He has been faithful both in war and in peace. He has been most successful in both our domestic and our foreign affairs. We have had a long and destructive war. Our people are tired of war and its attending disturbing conditions. Mr. Wilson has negotiated a reasonable peace, honorable alike to ourselves and our allies and our former enemies, and giving the greatest assurance of enduring permanence. It is probably better than could be gotten if we tried it all over again. Let us not send it back to conference. Let us take it as it is, without reservations and without amendments. In the words of General Grant, "Let us have peace," and have it without delay. (Applause in the galleries.)

Arbor Day October 28.

Friday, October 24, was proclaimed by Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, the new State Superintendent of Public Instruction as autumn arbor day and bird day for Pennsylvania.

The proclamation is directed to "citizens, school directors, superintendents, teachers, and the children of the commonwealth," and says in part:

There is no State in the Union whose natural resources are more varied or more valuable than the natural resources of Pennsylvania. A noted writer recently referred to our commonwealth as the "Industrial Titan of America." The industrial supremacy of the State depends in a large measure upon her coal, iron, forests and rivers. The vast mountain forests, the numerous rivers and streams and our delightful climate have made the land of Penna. the abode of a large variety of summer and winter birds.

The school may not, therefore, render a greater service to the State than to inculcate in every child under its influence a spirit to conserve every natural resource and to protect every useful bird. I, therefore, suggest that on the day set apart for the observance of the autumn arbor day and bird day that the schools co-operate with the public and with all organizations desiring to promote the best interests of the State by holding such appropriate public exercises in the schools or elsewhere as shall show the value of our natural resources. Where an adequate number of trees have been planted on the school grounds it is suggested that the school authorities co-operate with the highway authorities in planting trees along the highways. The children and the adults will get much pleasure and will render a great service in perfecting plans which will extend to the winter birds a cordial invitation to remain with us and a hearty welcome to the summer birds on their return to us in the spring.

New Laws in Effect at Nov. Court.

With the November court will begin a new condition of duties and pay applicable to constables, jurors and witnesses.

Constables by the new act are required to make a return to the courts of quarter sessions at regular intervals and where the said constables have no information to impart in said return, the said constable shall not make a return to court and no compensation for making a return to the court shall be paid to any constable unless he has actually appeared in court and presented his return containing information required by the court at the regular time fixed by law for making such return. In other words the two thirds or three fourths of the constables who have been reporting "none" as to all of the 23 questions and being paid a day's wages for the "none" might as well stay at home and send their return of none to the Clerk of the Court for they will get no compensation for bringing to court such a return.

Instead of making supervisors the goat of reports so as to get the pay, why should not constables study out their returns so that some good may result thereby. For instance if every constable kept his eyes wide open, it is likely he could find a minor smoking a cigarette and if this cigarette law was followed up closely by the guardians of the law much benefit might flow to the health of children. The most of the sign posts are decrepit old things and if the constables gave notice they were going to report the same the chances are that the county would in a short time have many legible sign boards.

Jurors to the November court will be entitled to three dollars a day and witnesses will receive two dollars a day.

Notice to Candidates.

Candidates for office in the coming election will save money if they will refrain from placing announcement cards or telegraph or telephone poles or elsewhere within the legal limits of State Highways, the State Highway Department has announced.

During the last week in various portions of Pennsylvania, candidates for office have been placarding the highways with announcements of their candidacy. The result has not added to the natural beauty of the thoroughfares. The Department several weeks ago issued an order directing that all advertising matter be removed from the roads and the District Engineers were advised that under no circumstances must advertising matter of any nature be permitted to remain within the legal limits of the road. Equidistant the Department decide to proceed against persons who violate this law, a fine could be imposed for the placing of every one of the offenders' cards or advertising material found on the roadway.

Apple Farms Bring Big Price.

Dr. C. L. Myers has sold his farm in Latimore township to C. H. Musselman, of Biglerville, for $18,000. This is the highest price ever paid for a farm in that section of Adams county. It is one of the finest and most productive farms in Adams county and Mr. Musselman will plant the entire tract in fruit trees except the portion already covered by 300 seventeen-year-old fruit trees.

Henry Butler of near Edgemoor, sold his property containing one acre of ground improved with a 1-2 story dwelling house at public sale on last Saturday to F. X. Shultz, of Edgemoor, for $330. Possession will be given April 1, 1920.

Roger A. Smith has purchased from the heirs of the late Edw. J. Kuhn, the property land known as "Willowdale," situated along the Hanover and McSherrystown turnpike for the sum of $12,000. Mr. Smith's first act upon reaching an agreement was to open up South street, Midway, thereby establishing a short cut—toll free road to Midway and McSherrystown.

Harry B. Slagle, county commissioner of Adams county, residing in Oxford township, has bought the Henry Stickler residence in Hanover. Mr. Slagle will have sale on March 4 and will retire from farming, moving to his new property on April 1st.

EXECUTOR'S PUBLIC SALE OF VALUABLE TOWN PROPERTIES.

Wednesday, October 15, 1919.

The undersigned, executor of the will of Martin Winter, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams Co., Pa., deceased, by virtue of the authority in said will contained, will offer at public sale on the premises the following described valuable business properties:

Tract No. 1. A LOT OF GROUND in the Borough of Gettysburg, on the north side of the first block of Chambersburg street, fronting 26 feet, 9 inches on said street, and extending 181 1-2 feet to an alley in the rear. Improved with a three-story brick building, containing a store room 20 x 80 feet, on the first floor, a lodge room on the third floor, and the building containing two toilet rooms and twelve rooms suitable for office or dwelling properties.

A very valuable asset to this property is the existence of an agreement properly recorded, providing that the building adjoining on the west cannot be extended any further north than the now existing building, thus making the west wall of the property offered for sale an unobstructed one.

Ryde's Egg Mash

"Makes Them Lay"

That's what you want at the price of eggs to-day. Makes every hen a payer by producing eggs nearly all the time instead of about half the time. Eggs is a question of feed. Give hens egg-producing feed and they will produce the eggs. No feed, or the wrong kind of feed, means no eggs.

Ryde's Egg Mash

is an unequalled egg producer, containing animal and vegetable nutrition in the correct proportions to produce results. No guess work or experimenting on the part of the feeder. The increased egg yield overcomes the cost of the mash.

More Eggs, Better Eggs, Bigger Eggs

Try a bag to-day on those hens that are backward and you will be more than pleased with the results.

Ryde's Cream Calf Meal

is the best substitute for milk in feeding all young stock. It supplies them with all the food value found in whole milk in just as digestible a form and in the correct proportions. It does them just as much good as whole milk and you save more than half the feed bill. Every pound makes one gallon of gruel, or rich, nutritious, perfect milk substitute. You take no chances.

Last week the largest dynamite blasts ever planted in the county were set off at the quarry of the Bethlehem Mines Corporation, near Bittering Station, three miles out the Carlisle pike. Twelve holes, each 62 feet deep, 6 inches in diameter, and 18 inches in circumference, were filled with a dynamite compound containing from 40 to 60 per cent of nitro-glycerine. Two and one half tons of the explosive were used. From 15,000 to 30,000 tons of limestone were dislodged by the force of the explosion. One single piece weighed about 800 tons. After everything was ready the workmen retired to a discreet distance, a signal given, and the tiny electric spark that set off the blast was carried along wires to the dynamite and nitro-glycerine. The whole face of the cliff seemed to rise upward and outward, then disintegrated in mid-air, and fell in a shower of dust to the bottom of the deep quarry. The detonation was not loud. The capacity of this plant will be 60 car-loads of limestone a day, each car holding 50 tons. When the equipment is complete the plant will represent an outlay of $1,000,000 for improvements.

MR. ORCHARDIST

Maybe your orchard doesn't get wet with dew in the night, and doesn't get you cold and wet in the mornings before the sun gets busy. But if it does—here's the remedy—A pair of over-boots. A light weight rubber boot to be worn OVER the ordinary leather shoe. Protects the leg to the knee, and buckles right below it to keep the top up. When the sun gets up and dries the grass, jerk them off, roll them up, and put them in your pocket—they weigh only 2 1-2 lbs. a pair. Ask to see them the next time you are in town—$2.75 a pair—you will have lots of winter use for them too.

The "Last Word" In Suits And Coats

THE newest suits and coats have just arrived and bring with them the most authentic news about the approved silhouette, favored materials and popular trimmings.

Both coats and suits insist on the straight line. Coats have rebelled against the old idea that to be warm they must be bulky. This year coats of warm soft fabrics fall straight from shoulder to hem.

The "Grenoble" is one of the most interesting Wooltex designs—it flares smartly on both sides and remains flat at front and back.

Wooltex suits are divided into four distinct and individual types with many variations of novel embroideries, odd stitchery and clever paneling. There's the severe "Tailleur," the Blouse, the trimmed Tailor-Made and the Country Suit; which means that you can find the newest style tendencies interpreted in your own type.

We recommend Wooltex, because the Wooltex label promises superior fabrics so carefully tailored that the correct lines remain throughout the season.
